Michael W. Dean: CAO (Chief Anarchy Officer) audio engineer and cat herder

Michael Dean is a talk radio host on the Freedom Feens show (Genesis Communications Network). The Freedom Feens is syndicated on three dozen commercial stations. Michael is a musician, an audio engineer and was creating and sharing spoken audio shows over the Internet in 1998. He was an early adopter of podcasting, back in 2006. Michael is already using FeenPhone to connect to his remote hosts on live radio 7 shows per week. Michael envisioned FeenPhone, helped design the overall technical criteria and some of the internal functions, did extensive testing, wrote the tech manuals on this site, and is the loudest cheerleader for FeenPhone there is. "I'm not just part of the company, I'm also a client!"

Michael has worked as a technical writer for O'Reilly Media.

Michael was the team leader, consultant and head publicist on the MeowBit, FreeSpeechMe and MouseCount software projects. He did publicity for BitShares.

Derrick Slopey: Programmer

Derrick does brilliant stuff with zeros and ones. He runs Alienseed Software. He developed MeowBit and the Silver Calculator App for Windows Phone. Derrick is a member of the Maine Hacker Club.
